

Information for Teachers

The characters Jelly, Bean, Lotty, Kevin and Wellington are introduced in this book.

The letters j, k, p, v, w, y, z are introduced, so that all the letters of the alphabet except q are used.

The letter y is used as a vowel sound at the end of the words Jelly, puppy.

Each story is written in complete sentences. Capital letters and punctuation are used.

The 'tricky' words used are the, I, go, to.

Story Title	New Letters	High-frequency Words
Jelly and Bean	y	I am the and
Lotty	p	I can see the
Kevin and Wellington	w, j, v, k, z	I am can with the and
Duck and Frog	ck	is go to the and

* The letter y is used in four different ways in written English words.

1: as a consonant in 'yes, yet, you'. 2: as a vowel in 'my, fly, by, sky'.

3: as a vowel in 'happy, sorry, baby, tricky'. 4: as a vowel in 'gym, crystal'.